introduction

This is an attempt to play a role playing game on Twitter in public.

I intend to include as many players as I can handle. Contact me on Twitter:

You can play a character from any edition of Dungeons & Dragons, as well as almost any other game. You do need to be able to quote relevant rules from the game of your choice when I need to apply them.

The Tree of Life is ending its current cycle.

Every 256 years it bursts into flames and a new seed is left behind.

The first cycle was the Age of Dragons.

The second cycle was the Age of Elves.

The third cycle was the Age of Dwarves.

The fourth and current cycle is the Age of Humans.

There are claims of earlier cycles.

A new cycle is approaching.

Who will control where the next seed is planted?

Your character can team up with other characters, in either species-specific adventuring groups or mixed species adventuring groups.
